

Same amount of corruption, delivered two ways. Averaged over the two largest task counts. Noise is independent at each position and can be averaged across the context; quantisation cannot.