

adaptation to the unseen map

Continuous input, asymmetric family. Shading spans six ways of placing the probe, so the curves are not an artefact of how off-distribution distance is measured.